FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1914

The law seems to have abolished
Eviction.

Mr. Bennett says it is "absurd" to suppose that he would break with the Government on the free speech question. Of course it is.

Mayor McNaughton has put the ban on the reporters, expressing the view that "the press of the city is not entitled to any consideration." That is the public, not the press, to whom His Worship is denying information. His position is that unless the newspapers represent the trend of civic affairs in the way he wants them represented he will penalize the readers of the papers by doing what he can to keep them in the dark as to what is going on. That is one of His Worship's prerogatives, and he has entirely failed to exercise it, though slamming the door in their faces does not seem a good way to keep the election promise that the public should be kept fully and continuously informed as to how and why their business was being transacted.

As for the Bulletin, it will see the mayor when he comes to town and will hand over its position to him. But it will continue to keep its readers fully informed as to how their business is being conducted at the city-hall all the same.

McGillis, Tamlin and Cameron have gone to jail for the flimsy ergy into which they inveigled two if not three, young girls a couple of months ago. It is difficult as to the character of the affair, but it is clear that they were previously excluded the public from the court-room while the evidence against the last two was being taken. Each of these two got the limit that the law allows for the offence with which he was charged—Tamlin five years and Cameron two years. McGillis appeared in police court originally charged with having administered dope. For some reason the police elected to go on with the case. A lawyer was engaged on the side, however, retorted to let the matter drop, put in such evidence as was available in the court-room, and secured a committal for trial to the higher court. He was not tried on this charge, however. The Attorney-General's department, exercising the power of grand jury, reduced the charge from that of administering dope to that of having a room in which immoral practices had been carried on. He was found guilty in District Court and sentenced to eighteen months. The maximum penalty for this offence is two years and he had already spent a month or so in the cells awaiting trial. The penalty for the offence upon which he was committed in the police court is five years. Cameron was brought up in police court at the same time as McGillis, charged with rape. He was accused on a charge of defilement, committed, and it was upon this charge he has now been given the maximum penalty of two years. For the offence first brought against him the extreme penalty is hanging. While Tamlin received punishment somewhat in proportion to his crime, McGillis and Cameron have certainly not paid the full measure of any sentence of more than the full half of that is not with the law. The judge, who gave one of these the limit, and the other approximately the limit of the law. The fault is that they were tried on charges for which the maximum punishment is ridiculously and shamefully inadequate to their crimes.

A man in Elgin County, Ontario, dropped dead while reading a newspaper. Probably he came across MacKenzie and Mann's twenty-five-million-dollar proposal.

When the neighbors start a clean-up campaign the city which is not also cleaning up must do its part. Whether they remain here or move on will depend upon—again indicate—the reception they get from the police department.

Mayor McNaughton is right in the view that the public would prefer a straight five-cent fare, compiled with a regular street car service, to a regular street car service for the service that cannot be depended on. An irregular service is dear at any price; a regular service is not necessarily dear at a five-cent fare. But it may not be necessary to raise the fares if regularity of service is established. A dependable service drives business, just as a hit-and-miss service disgrunts passengers and drives away business. Perhaps the added business created by a regular service will put into its feet financially the amateur expedient of an increase in fares. At any rate it is worth trying.

The Railway Commission has decided that the C.N.R. must go forward for Parliament to be issued. That will give Parliament an opportunity to take the situation of the railway companies under advisement and make an end of the complicated position of all this but all established enterprises. As the company is asking Parliament for a further loan of twenty-five millions of dollars, the necessity of doing this is quite sufficiently apparent. The Government should have made up its mind by this time whether the company are to be left to sink or swim as they may be able to stand. The shareholders should be asked, frankly, to undertake to finance the enterprise through the crisis, or whether the public interests would be best served by taking over the system. The other alternative—is handing over the twenty-five millions as is present, and with no assurance that it will be the last—is not an alternative at all.

In revising the proposal to establish a Toronto folk music hall, Alderman Campbell has injected an issue into the municipal election—an issue of real and great moment. The stock business of this Province is already large. With a market of one hundred million people open to him, and with cheaper land than can be found in any other part of the

EDMONTON DAILY BULLETIN*ENGINEERING BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY*Big Source of Information For Those Interested in Technical Subjects

(From Morning Edition.)
...one people have the idea that there is no value in the public library of Edmonton. This is an erroneous impression, as there are many books on a technical subject which would be of great benefit to the reading citizen.

The library has 21,600 books in all, and there are over 8,000 borrowings with less than a year's operation. The weekly circulation is about 1,000 books, larger than any state library in Canada such a short time in operation.

Following is a list of books on engineering and its allied subjects:

Engineering—How to Manage a Workshop and Laboratory.

Corbin, T. W.—Mechanical Inventories. G.—Investigation at Work, and Leading American Inventors.

Around the City

A box social under the auspices of the Pride of the West Lodge was held on Thursday evening in the Blue Moon tea rooms and was a success.

The board of commissioners this morning gave instructions to Commissioner Daniels to have the main entrance at North Edmonton altered.

The commissioners have agreed to spend $4,000 to place a mesh wire netting, three feet high, on the rails on the traffic deck of the high level bridge.

Calls on the Mayor.—"The Mayor" has received a copy of the resolution passed by the Edmonton Medical Society expressing confidence in the medical treatment of the city. It was handed over to Commissioner Daniels.

Funeral of William Calder.—The funeral of the late Wm. Calder, who died on Wednesday morning in the isolation hospital, takes place on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the casket, from McClelland & Lamberts' funeral parlour, the city's leading establishment.

Robert Campbell's Funeral.—The funeral of Robert Campbell, who died on Saturday morning in the isolation hospital, takes place at 2 p.m. today at the Masonic Temple, Union Block, James taking charge of the arrangements.

George Arnall's claims.—A claim for his property by a gang of ruffians is worth $20. The claimant is called "The Bull Horn," and is a member of the gang. Arnall has been lecturing on different subjects in most of the cities and towns of Alberta during the past two years. The Bulletin has not received a copy, but the assumption is made that he is still lecturing on wagons and wagons with some effective effusions as well as entertainment. It will be at least interesting as well as entertaining.

Five quickly extinguished.—Notwithstanding the strong wind, a fire which started at the corner of John Street and 10th Avenue was quickly extinguished yesterday afternoon. The damage was insignificant. J. J. Saunders owned the house.

Looking for His Brother.—H. T. Lewis has written to the police, asking them to find his brother, John, who was last seen in Jasper about December 8, 1912. Since that time he has not heard from him.

Evangelist Torrie Leaves.—Continuing his series of special services in Medicine Hat, Ontario, Rev. George Stephen, general passenger agent of the Canadian Northern railway, Evangelist Torrie will leave for the east by the 2:40 express to-night, accompanied by Mr. Torrie and his contingent who have made the two weeks' mission in Edmonton conducted by Mr. Torrie.

King Edward Hotel.—Mr. Crooman informed that he would be at the King Edward hotel, expect to go east tonight.

Mr. Crooman's statement.—Mr. Crooman, manager of the King Edward hotel, expect to go east tonight. Mr. Crooman intimated that their presence in Edmonton at this time had no connection with new developments in the trial of Mr. Crooman, who was being made for private reasons.

TWO CHARGES DISMISSED.

Mr. H. G. Turner.—Miss Katherine Peter of pretending to find stolen articles by skill or magic was dismissed by magistrate John Head, who gave her $100. Her evidence was that she told him that he could pay her what was impossible for her to find.

Mr. H. G. Turner.—Mr. H. G. Turner was a good attendance and a very enjoyable evening was spent. This is the third time that the speakers have been here and it was a great success.

The talent was supplied by the officers and chevaliers in vocal and instrumental music, speeches and recitations.

Protesters.—For the laying of a sewer on Athabasca avenue from 24th to 26th streets state that they will not have the sewer extended beyond 24th street. While other petitioners who want the sewer extended beyond 24th street are in agreement with the protesters, the city commissioners have decided cash must be paid for the extension.

'LITTLE WOMEN' APPEALS TO WOMEN OLD AND YOUNG

Like the little one like the book, "Little Women," the play is a very much enjoyed by all who seek quiet enjoyment for their escorts. Those who have read the book by Louisa May Alcott will find their friends come to life in the stage version provided by Marion de Forest. And those who have not yet seen the book will probably visit the public library at the earliest opportunity.

ing Jean Brain's "Meg" is winsome; Henrietta McDaniel's "Beth" is appealing. Donald Ogallala is a good Indian, and his speech is full of heart. And so one might mention the entire troupe, but the most interesting of all the more than those who see the play will fall in love with all the characters for one reason or another. A particularly good point of characterization was Lillian Dixon's "Aunt March."

The audience last night was a good one, and the critics have received quiet enjoyment for their escorts. Those who have read the book by Louis Untermeyer will find that his friends come to life in the stage version provided by Marion de Forest. And those who have not yet seen the book will probably visit the public library at the earliest opportunity.

The curtain rises into the living room at the March and affords glimpse of the father and mother, the son and daughter, the rich and rich member of the family, the crusty, but tender-hearted old aunt and the natural-looking young maid.

The joys and the sorrows, the little triumphs and the tender loves all seem very real and send their appeal directly to the individual and collective hearts of the audience.

One will surely be full to satiation with the beauty of the scene, the music, the acting, the costumes, the sets, the lighting, the atmosphere, the atmosphere, the atmosphere.

EDMONTON DAILY BULLETIN

Hon. J. R. Boyle Back From United States; Saw Villa In Mexico

Minister of Education Looking In to Technical Education Teaching in Republic—Took a Trip to Warlike Republic Where Civil War is Now in Progress

By JOHN MORNING, EDITOR.

An interesting and varied program has been arranged for the Edmonton bill which opens on Monday. The feature number on the program will be that of the Hawaiian Serenaders, who will give a series of new repertoires of songs and selections. These people are from the South Sea Islands.

There will be a special program for the Edmonton public and each time they appear, great is the favor of the audience.

The Hawaiian Serenaders will be followed by the celebrated violinist, "Crespo," who holds an especially great popularity among the key men to haunt the memory for a long time to come.

There will be a special attraction of the matinée of the bill, for there will be a great time out on the stage with a team of very skillful and graceful stage dancers, the De Alberta, who demonstrate the latest evolutions and stances of the native dance which has won such popular favor.

"Crespo" will be followed by the famous violinist, "Red Devil," Duke of the Americas, who has organized an entire new program, which consists of many native songs and dances, all of which are unique and never before used for the benefit of the schools. They have, of course, the usual musical training and domestic knowledge of the violin, but their advanced work which might be classified as industrial training, has been added to the number of the native girls.

Gets Fresh Health

The Human Bake Oven, employed at the Edmonton Sanatorium, restores one of Alberta's Foremost German Editors, who suffered for two years from Rheumatism. Says he is cured.

We Can Do As Much For You

Mr. Joseph Schuster, one of the owners of The Deutsch-Canadien, published at Calgary, writes thus of the Human Bake Oven treatment:

"I suffered from rheumatism for two years, tried many treatments and the Hot Springs, and when I was carried into the sanatorium on a stretcher I could not stand up."

"In fact, I was relieved of this terrible suffering. I heartily recommend the Human Bake Oven for treatment of rheumatism. I believe, when it cured me, it will cure almost any case."

We have on file in our office hundreds of unsolicited testimonials from grateful patients, who state unreservedly that they have been restored to perfect health after suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, gout and other diseases resulting from bad blood and poor circulation, also ailments of the kidneys and nervous disorders.

It does not cost a penny to investigate this treatment—there is no charge for office consultation. Telephone today for an appointment. Trained nurses for women.

BIG IMMIGRATION SCHEME FOR WEST

LETHBRIDGE AND CAMROSE TO DEBATE

Final Contest of High School Series Will Take Place Tonight

(From Morning Edition.)

The schools in the Edmonton High School Immigrant League will be held in the gymnasium of the University of Alberta this evening at the weekly meeting of the University Literary Society in the gymnasium sharp at 8 o'clock.

The subject is "Resolved that Canada should exclude Oriental Immigration." It has been debated before three times by each of the competing teams. Lethbridge High school are the champions of the southern circuit and Camrose are the champions of the north. The debate on Friday will finally decide the 1914 High School Debating Championship.

Wimmers to Get Trophy.

The trophy will be awarded to the winning team. J. R. Boyd, Minister of Education, is expected to be present to make the presentation.

Dr. McQueen, Mayor of the City of Edmonton, will preside.

The winning team will be held in North Edmonton on Saturday, March 11, and the trophy will meet annually in various cities of the west.

MANY MINUTES AT $50
 MAKES MANY MILLIONS

Live Stock Supply for Swifts. Estimated to cost $20 Per Minutes Killing.—Burns' and Other Plans—Live Stock Spells—Live Cash Trade.

Thirty dollars per minute is estimated as the average cost of the live stock killing plant. The cost of the packing plant of the Swift Canadian company. This packing plant operates at a rate of 1,000 pigs per hour. When hog killing is in full swing and a record is being made about 1,000 pigs per hour, the cost of the pig head would mean about $10 paid to the farmers for live hogs for every minute of time spent at this record rate. But the hog killing is not so rushing all the year round.

It is estimated that the hog season slackens, cattle and sheep are slaughtered at a rapid rate. A big fat animal can be killed in less than one minute.

When the killing of cattle and sheep, pigs, and cattle can be killed at the same time, the cost of the building for stock stalls, an estimate of $30,000 for the year round, is the total cost.

P. Burns and Co. and the smaller packing plants in the city will kill more live hogs during 1914 than they have done in the past but it might be safe to estimate that killing two-thirds of the pigs as about the number of those of the Swift Canadian company. This would mean that the packing plants of Edmonton are busy killing, their supply of live stock costs about $30,000 per ten hours or $300,000 during the year.

All this cost goes to swell the growing wealth of the mixed farmer and the stock dealer. The packers will buy the hogs and make its way back to the city through the interests of the country merchant to whom a wholesale market is given in Edmonton. For example some of this pig money may eventually reach the employer of labor in the city.

It is the pig-feeder, or the girls who make up J. & J. candy which the farmer sells, will still be the best buy after he gets his load of pigs. One-half of this cash may even help pay his rent and keep him in the boxes in which the shirts or candies are shipped to the country merchant.

Thus the live stock industry thrives and develops a thriving prosperous agricultural and industrial commercial centre. "Cattle are cash" is an old time maxim, and the pig business is going to be a big part of the future.

The total cash business developed by the live stock trade is a powerful factor in making provincial prosperity.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WILL FLOAT $10,000,000 LOAN

Provincial House to Present Bill of Week and Government Will Take Steps to Float Loan.

Victoria, Feb. 26.—Practically as soon as the house prorogues, which will probably be next Thursday, the provincial government will take steps to float a loan of $10,000,000. The loan, now being authorized by the legislature, Premier McBride would not say definitely how much will be taken out, but he said that when the flotation of stock would be made, he would be able to say definitely what the amount would total, and that he would be able to say definitely what the flotation would be of the $7,500,000.

So far, however, no date does not expect to go to Ottawa for another fortnight or three weeks.

YOU CAN'T EARN MONEY WHEN YOU'RE LAID UP

There are a lot of men who cannot afford to be sick. Perhaps some of you feel that you can, but certainly some of you do not. You know that when your wages stop and worry and debts get piled up, you have to do something for you to do, as soon as you feel strong enough to wear out, no matter what the cause is. To take care of yourself, you have to build up strength and health. Make yourself more comfortable and provide against sickness.

We don't believe there is any other medicine man who will do any good towards getting your health back. Give you money your salary, give you money your wages stop and worry and debts get right at the trouble and relieves it by giving the nerves, enriching the blood, and giving you a new lease of life. It is good for the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains no alcohol. The secret of its giving power is due to pure Olive Oil and the secret of its success is due to the skillful physicians, the one for liquid oil value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, we have a medicine that results in a real nerve, blood and body-building medicine—a real strengthenner that will help you to get well again. If you don't need to hurry in using it, because if it does, it will do well to wait until you are in even better shape than you now. If it doesn't make you strong and well again, you will be given a full refund.

EDMONTON, Feb. 26.—The King of England, who has been here to experience the thrill that comes as the result of a spectacular hit which breaks up an exciting game, has been given a hearty enclosure box behind the home plate of a Diamond that had been laid out on the Cheesecake field, and the game was in its second half of the eleventhinning. Tom Daly of the Chicago White Sox, who had been the star pitcher for the Yanks, was the hero of the game for Chicago 5 to 4. The King clapped his hands wildly as Daly trotted across the bases and the crowd cheered him. The King was only 10,000 spectators for his last game.

He was widely known throughout the world tour, and was highly advertised and, having King George as a patron, it was thought that he attracted to the game a large number of British sports members of the "hot" cabinet ministers, diplomats and other prominent persons. The colony in London was out to a man.
